

Central Massachusetts (CMDART) &
the Southern New Hampshire Disaster Animal Response (SNHDART) Teams

Present:

"Basic Large & Small Farm Animal Handling"

Sunday August 26, 2007 – New Ipswich NH
10:00 am – 2:00

- Brief History of Animal Disaster Teams – meet some Katrina alumni
- Learn what an Animal Disaster Team is and why is every state in the nation developing them?
- Learn about who's in charge when help comes, what happens and your role as owner or responder
- Learn basic signs of animal distress reactions, body behavior and when its time to take charge or walk away and get help.'
- What species specific equipment needed is to capture, contain and transport large and small farm animals
- Halter and load a donkey, horse and mule onto a trailer, capture chickens, ducks and how to pick up a goose without getting hurt.

You will learn, hands on, to work safely and efficiently with:
poultry, sheep, goats, geese and other waterfowl, cows, donkeys and mules

Location: Goose Hollow Farm (Lora & Lance dePlante)
300 River Road, New Ipswich, NH 03071

Registration limited: Call Lora @ (603) 878-3795 by August 22nd
You must sign a liability release to participate. Registration is free and space limited. Age limit, 18 or over